Pacer: Connor, tell us about your other pastime and explain why you think it goes hand-in-hand with your dart successes.

Connor: Actually, I was a professional Beer Pong player. Just as they have major dart tournaments, they have Beer Pong (a bar sport in which the challenge is to toss ping pong balls into beer cups located at the far end of the table) tournaments and I actually won a couple $10,000 tournaments and played in The World Series of Beer Pong in Las Vegas, NV.

Pacer: I had no idea such a thing existed. You really feel like playing Beer Pong helped you as a dart player?

Connor: They go hand-in-hand as far as the hand-eye coordination and athleticism and when I got into Connor teamed up with Paula Murphy and won 1st place in Mixed Cricket Doubles at the BullShooter 34 Finals in May.

When this darter first took an interest in the game he began setting goals for what he wanted to achieve as a player. In three short years he has repeatedly met and increased his expectations. Let's talk darts with Connor Martin.

Connor lives in Stanhope, NJ, located in the Northern part of the state. He splits his time between spending time with his lovely girlfriend, Megan Jannuzzi, being employed as a Project Superintendent for DeVito Roofing Company, and playing in his numerous hobbies. You'll be surprised to learn how he honed his darting skills.

serious dart play I could use those experiences to develop the mental part of the game. It helped me to perform in big moments when you have to be able to put aside the pressure and throw your best shots.

Pacer: Connor, I would say that ability is what separates the men from the boys in the world of sports. You have taken that ability and in three short years climbed quite a ways up the dart ladder.

Connor: I was working at The Corner Pub and a couple guys came in with their own dart cases and I was intrigued. I asked them if I could play with them and they thought I showed promise for a new player. They were in the process of forming a team and they asked me to join up and I was really excited about it.

Tom, I think what has led to my success in the game is my drive. From that very first night I knew I would do whatever I had to do to be a good player. I set goals for myself and worked hard to achieve them.

Pacer: I've never met a great player who hasn't paid his dues. I don't care how much natural ability a player has, he won't reach his full potential if he doesn't put in the time and effort. You've got to pay your dues.

Connor: I couldn't agree more. I set goals to challenge myself. I can remember when I wanted to be a good consistent team player. Then I wanted to be the best player on my team. Then I wanted to be the best player in my league. I set bigger and bigger goals and I'm still setting them.

Pacer: (Laughing) I don't think I would be sticking my neck out if I said you reached a few goals at the Pennsylvania Regional and The BullShooter Challenge of Champions this year.

Connor: When Michael Burns and I went to the Regional, we said our goal was to win every event that we played. We played very well there in Pittsburgh, and we did win both of the Men's Doubles, but the amazing thing was what happened Friday night. We got there and signed up for the Luck of the Draw. I think there were 256 entries and we look up on the chart and there we are paired together, we couldn't believe it.

Pacer: Wow, talk about beating the odds, I guess it was meant to be.

Connor: Here I am, playing in my second electronic tournament ever and we won the Blind Draw, and then both of the Men's Doubles.

I think that really got me mentally prepared for The BullShooter Finals, in Chicago.

Pacer: That was definitely a fine tune up and you didn't slow down one bit in Chicago. You ended up with championships in The Top Gun Mixed Triples, with Heidi Schraeder and Marc Marchesani, Men's 501 Doubles with Marc, Mixed Cricket Doubles with Paula Murphy and took 2nd in the Mixed Triples 701 with Heidi and Marc. There's not much I can add to that but wow!

Connor: It was really an experience. I got the opportunity to meet so many top level players and it was amazing to get praised by players who have accomplished so much. I was very pleased with my play but getting so much recognition can be a blessing and a curse.

Pacer: Well Connor, I know you set goals, but I doubt if you ever set one to have a bullseye on your back, but that is what performance like that does. The days of you showing up to a tournament unnoticed are probably over.

Connor: (Laughing) Let me tell you something humorous that happened to me in Chicago. The first night I was working on getting prepared mentally for the weekend and I was watching this guy who was throwing some really good darts. I went up and challenged him and we ended up playing for quite awhile. It turned out to be that I had challenged Danny Baggish and it ended up costing me a few $20 bills. (Both laughing)

Pacer: The odds on that happening were about as crazy as you drawing your own partner for the Blind Draw in Pittsburgh. Danny won the AA-A Pro Cricket Mixed Doubles with Paula Murphy and you won the Mixed Cricket Doubles with her.

Connor: Isn't that hard to believe. Let me tell you about Paula. I don't have words to describe what an absolute gem of a person Paula is. She was absolutely wonderful to play with, the whole event.

Pacer: I understand that Mike Maloney set you and Paula up. That guy has put more championship teams together than anybody, it's just amazing.

Connor: Tom, he just does it out of friendship. He also set me and Marc up with Heidi and we played two great events together. Marc and I made a point to keep Mike in drink tickets over the weekend. I also want to thank Dirty Jersey Darts who has been great and L Style who I just signed with. I also have to thank Darin Young who always has the time to talk about the game. Also, players like Jim Widmeyer who made me get better by beating me so much and Bobby Freeman who was my first mentor and gave me the goal of being able to compete with an accomplished dart thrower. We really get into it when we play. If you didn't know us and listened to how we bad mouth and rag each other, you'd think we were going to fist fight, but nothing could be farther from the truth.

Pacer: Connor, before we wrap this up, do you have a home dart bar?

Connor: I play at Anet's Pub which is my local bar of choice. I also play a Singles league at Pat's Bar, which my parents used to go to, over thirty years ago. Last but not least, thanks for calling me.

Pacer: Connor continues to set and exceed his darting goals. However, like a typical mother his mom wasn't entirely comfortable all the time her son was putting into his extreme pastime.

After he returned from Chicago with a bunch of trophies and a handful of checks, even she had to agree that there just might be something to these darts.
